SHIPPING LINES TO BE PERMITTED TO TAKE BOOZE INTO THREE MILE ZONE

Treasury Ruling is Adverse To Brandeis Decision

NO DRINKS, HOWEVER

Companies To Appeal Against Decree Of Jurist

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Oct. 25.—In the Supreme Court Judge Brandeis refused the great foreign shipping lines a stay of execution against the enforcement of Judge Hand's decision upholding the Daugherty ruling. The Treasury simultaneously announced, however, that foreign ships would still be permitted as a matter of policy to enter American waters with liquor under seal. The shipping companies intend to appeal against Judge Brandeis' decision and the hearing will take place in a month's time.

J. D. CLARK, HERE SINCE 1861, DIES IN HIS 84TH YEAR

End Comes Suddenly To Shanghai's Oldest Journalist

Death yesterday claimed Mr. John Dent Clark, for many years Editor-in-Chief of the Shanghai Mercury, and one of the best known old-timers in Shanghai, at the age of 83, at the home of Mr. P. O'Brien Twigg, 5 Yulin Road, where he has made his home for many years. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at Bubbling Well Cemetery, the Very Rev. C. F. J. Symons, Dean of the Cathedral, officiating.

Mr. Clark died, as he lived, a newspaperman. About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon he was engaged in conversation on the telephone with the Mercury concerning a meeting of the Board, of which he was still a member, and as he finished the conversation he slipped into a chair alongside the telephone exclaiming "I feel very bad" and died instantly.

Mr. Clark has been in bad health for some time and in June went to Kuling for the summer. He celebrated his eighty-second birthday while at the mountain resort, and returned to Shanghai last month feeling greatly improved. A week ago, however, he had a stroke, and because of his advanced age death in the near future had been expected.

Mr. Clark established the Shanghai Mercury in 1879 and until a year ago was Managing Director and Editor-in-Chief. He was Vice-President of Sin Wan Pao, one of the leading Chinese newspapers in Shanghai; Chairman of the Board of Hall & Holtz, Ltd., and interested in Feiry Glen, the summer resort at Kuling.

He was born on August 12, 1840 at Halesworth, England, and was educated privately and at Norwich Grammar School. He joined the British Navy upon graduation and first came to the Far East in February, 1861, being present as an Ensign at the engagements at Shimonoseki and Kagoshima. Mr. Clark resigned from the Navy in 1865, and in 1873 helped establish the Nagasaki Rising Sun and Express, the first foreign newspaper to be printed in Japan.

Mr. Clark came to Shanghai in 1875, engaging in the brokerage business. In 1879 he established the Mercury. He has been a prolific and entertaining writer on Shanghai subjects for many years and was the author of several volumes including "History of Shanghai," "Shanghai By Day and By Night," "Formosa" and "Sketches." He was decorated by the Emperor of Japan with the Fifth Order of the Rising Sun for his services at the time of the Russo-Japanese War. He was a member of the Shanghai Club, Masonic Club and the Constitutional Club of London.

Mr. Clark is survived by one daughter, living in England. He made his last visit to England in 1919.

—Robert Burton.

Mr. Burton gave voice to the observation on cookery and cooks, quoted above, back in the seventeenth century, whereupon David Garrick, who was a contemporary if not an acquaintance, rose to remark that —Heaven sends meat but the Devil sends cooks, thus showing that even in that remote period of history there were good cooks and bad.

Speaking of cooks, how come the average hotel cook, who has everything in the way of kitchen implements that he can lay his hand to, to say nothing of a carte blanche account at all the butcher shops and grocery stores in town, is still unable to produce a meal without extracting all the natural juices from the chow, whereas mother, armed only with a skillet and a coffee pot and a slice or two of ham and a couple of eggs can set up a dinner that will knock your eye plumb out?

Manager Ellis, over at the Carlton, got to thinking about this culinary paratiox some weeks ago, and straightway went to Louie Ladow—well knowing that Louie would be all ears for any proposition having to do with cooks, Louie being somewhat of an Epicure himself—and asked him the why of it.

"You can search me," replied Louie, wearily. "I've been in the catering business for going on fifty-six years, and still have to confess that I don't know the answer to that question, which is one that still keeps me awake nights. Some of these days I fully expect my hair to turn gray from worrying over that problem."

Louie then looked questioningly at Ellis, as though expecting a suggestion. But one look was enough.

"No," thought Louie, "there's a guy that has been eating hotel chow all his life and look at him—flatter in front than the floor he walks on."

But the manager had been doing a little heavy cogitating, and also a little letter writing, as a result of which he delivered the following oration, with his boss for an audience:

"I know a cook," he said, "who can walk into an empty kitchen with a bunch of raw carrots and come out in ten minutes with a strawberry shortcake in his hand. This bird . . ."

"Yea," said Louie, "I suppose the Number One boy has got a cousin who has a friend who has an uncle whose brother-in-law down in Ningpo . . ."

"Ningpo your foot!" shot back the manager. "Also your other foot and both your shoes! If you said Ningpo to this goof he'd probably think you were talking about a new tooth wash. This guy I'm talking about probably never even heard of China.

Noticing a spark of interest in Louie's eye he raved on:

"This cook I have in mind started in Delmonicos in London 25 years ago, and was two years at the Cafe de la Paix in Paris. Then he went to New York, to the Cafe Martin, and then to the Techau Tavern, and finally to the St. Francis in San Francisco, where he was associated with the famous Victor for nine years. When it comes to cook. . . ."

"What can he do besides boil an egg?" asked Louie.

"What can he do? Well firstly, he knows how to prepare food without extracting all the natural taste and flavor and secondly he knows a million dishes and thirdly . . . ."

"Maskee the secondlies and the thirdlies and the fourthlies and all the millions," cut in Louie. "The firstly is what interests me—bring on the firstlies."

So they brought him on and for two weeks now he has been on the job at the Carlton.

And, having had dinner there—the Princess and I—you can take it from us that the new cook, Chef John they call him, is the original of that classic little line that enumerates some of the things that the world could relinquish but which winds up by laying down the well established gastronomic law that —civilised man cannot live without cooks.

Paotingfu Plans Attack On Rebels From Three Sides, Says Report

(Dah Tong News Bureau)

Amoy, Oct. 26.—General Hsu Hsung-chi and Hsu Shu-tseng, directors of the Reconstructional Army, have agreed to allow General Li Hou-chi, former Tuchun of Fukien, to leave for Shanghai on board a foreign vessel.

Changchow and Amoy forces have asked General Chwang Chi-ping, who was recently deprived of his post as Brigade-Commander by Li Hou-chi, to return to his former command, as they have declared their independence and working in harmony with the Reconstructional leaders at Foochow.

The Paotingfu Military Conference has decided to instruct General Kao Chuan-chung and General Shang Teh-chien to attack Foochow from three sides with the aid of the Navy and to recapture the city for the North.

The Shanghai Fukien Guild yesterday addressed a telegram to the naval authorities in Fukien, asking them not to release Ex-tuchun Li Hou-chi for the present. The message charged Li with embezzling more than $10,000,000 of public funds.

PROCLAMATION IS SIGNED FOR DISCONTINUING PARLIAMENT

King Issued Decree At Sandringham Yesterday

EX-PREMIER BUSY

Wants Resistance To Socialists' War Declaration

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 26.—The King this morning at Sandringham signed the Proclamation dissolving Parliament.

London, Oct. 25.—Mr. Lloyd George, addressing 250 National Liberal members of the House of Commons and candidates at the Hotel Victoria today, defined the attitude of the National Liberals towards the various parties.

He said that it was necessary to resist the Socialists' declaration of relentless war.

The attitude of the National Liberals towards the Independent Liberals had been determined by the latter's declaration of war and their attack on 30 of the National Liberals' seats.

Mr. Lloyd George accused the Independent Liberals of concerning themselves less with principle than with piques. He deprecated facetious opposition to the new Government but it was for the Conservatives to decide the attitude of the two parties.

Nevertheless, if die-hard candidates were put up directly or indirectly to attack National Liberal seats they would have no alternative but to spread the war.

WARNS BONAR LAW

This was regarded by Mr. Lloyd George's audience as a plain warning to Mr. Bonar Law not to oppose National Liberals.

Mr. Lloyd George defined his policy as "Britain First and Party second." He exhorted his followers not to hinder any Government, to refrain from unfair criticism and to co-operate in the policy of peace and co-operation with the Allies, while refusing to allow Britain to be tied to the chariot of any other land.

The former Premier instanced the Straits, declaring that had we committed the policy entirely to our Allies the freedom of the Straits would have been gone.

Mr. Lloyd George emphasised the need for co-operation between Capital and Labor and the encouragement of agriculture. While he was opposed to artificial stimulants to trade certain aids were legitimate, for instance the Trade Facilities act, which, he claimed, had been most successful in assisting trade abroad and with the Dominions and India.

Mr. Lloyd George said that when the crisis came the Government was considering a scheme for considerably extending the use of British credit for Imperial development which he had intended to submit to Parliament in November. He said that the surest trade was trade with the British Empire.

DANGER FROM FANATICS

The former Premier concluded by paying a tribute to Mr. Bonar Law and the Labor Members, Mr. Clynes, Mr. Henderson and Mr. J. H. Thomas, but he said that the danger to both parties was that they possessed fanatical allies, hence the necessity for a party which was strong enough to keep the Government in a middle course until Britain emerged from her difficulties.

(French Wireless)

Paris, Oct. 25.—The Temps says that it is happy to find well-known faces in the new British Cabinet again. Lord Derby, the journal says, is almost a compatriot in our eyes. Lord Curzon is accustomed to negotiate with M. Poincare, who can appreciate his capability for work.

The Temps recalls the words, pronounced by Mr. Bonar Law, when coming out from his retirement, at a dinner in honor of M. Poincare in London: "We know what France has suffered, we understand her fears for the future. We have for her nothing but the warmest admiration and affection." The Temps concludes that Mr. Bonar Law is too loyal and too unchanging to have altered his opinion.

Battustizzi Testifies In Case Against A.C. Mack

Tells Of Mixing Liquor In Giesel And Company Godowns

Testimony of Mr. L. Battustizzi was presented at the British Police Court yesterday in the case brought by Mr. A. Giesel against Mr. A. C. Mack, who is charged with theft of liquors and with forging trademarks.

The case, which was again adjourned, is being heard by Magistrate G. W. King. Mr. Tycho Wing and Mr. J. O. Anderson appeared for the defense and Mr. P. W. Goldring to prosecute.

When Mr. Battustizzi was tendered as a witness, the Magistrate pointed out that as it was suggested that this witness was connected with the defendant in the making of certain spurious brandy, anything that he would say could be used against him in the Italian Consular Court. As he was not amenable to the jurisdiction of the British Court, Magistrate King explained that the witness need not answer any questions that were put to him.

Witness stated that in May last he was engaged by Mr. Giesel on the recommendation of Mack for a period of three months to filtrate liquors which were bad. He also filtrated vermouth and during the time he was in the godown he met Mr. Giesel only once or twice. The defendant told him that the vermouth was to be sold to the Chinese, and asked witness to make out a receipt. This was shortly after he took up his employment.

MADE FROM OLD STOCK

Mack introduced him to Blumenthal, who wanted to buy some cognac and other liquors. Defendant also inquired from witness whether he could make brandy and he made it in the Chaofoong Road godown, out of old brandy that Giesel had in the godown. Besides using this good quality brandy, witness utilised some alcohol, essence and water and herbs.

There was an agreement between witness and Blumenthal that he could sell these cases of wines that he made, and this agreement was filed in the French Court in the proceedings against Giesel. This spurious brandy that he made was bottled and taken away.

In this document what wines, and spirits and prices were mentioned?—It was agreed that we could sell the brandy for $20 per case but Mack changed it into $23 per case.

The Magistrate: Was Mack a party to the agreement as well?—Mack suggested the terms of this agreement as he was going away to Peking and Tientsin.

Witness added that he also made Sunnybrook whisky in the godown and filtered and bottled beer.

Mr. Goldring: What mark was put on this new spurious brandy?—No mark. Blumenthal wanted Hennessy and Martel. In the agreement, 100 cases of Noilly-Prat vermouth was mentioned and also John Haig whisky.

Did the manufacture of this new brandy take place before or after Mack returned from Tientsin?—A long time after Mack returned.

RECEIVED $100

Did you ever receive any money in connection with this?—I received $100. Blumenthal paid Mack a check for $1,000 on the International Bank and this was cashed by Mr. Alba. Mack told me he had this brandy in a house and could not sell it; he did not tell me in what house.

What was the arrangement between you, Mack and Blumenthal as regards the division of profits?—No arrangement was actually arrived at with regard to the profits.

Did Giesel know anything about this new brandy?—I do not think he knew. It was understood that Giesel was not to know about it. The intention at first was to make the brandy elsewhere but not having any machinery, it was made in Giesel's godown. Witness added that he had taken a special course of training in Italy in treating wine and had worked for Reids, Ltd.

Did Mack ever tell you how much he made out of the wine business?—He did not tell me.

Treated Worse Than Mine Mules, They Say In Manifesto

(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, Oct. 25.—Owing to the fact that when demands for the betterment of treatment were tendered to the Kailan Mining Administration by its workmen, the Administration immediately despatched military guards, forcing the men to disperse and causing six representatives of the workmen to be taken into custody at Linse. The workmen, burning with indignation, on the 24th instant published at Tangshan the following manifesto, announcing a strike, in the name of upward of 30,000 workmen of the Administration at Tangshan, Linse, Machiayung, Chaoming chuan and Chinwangtao:

"Foreign capitalists of the Kailan Mining Administration, who regard us, miners, as if we were brigands, yesterday suddenly confined our six representatives without any reason. Though we are peace-loving, we are compelled to play our last card—strike. In fact, the treatment given by the Administration to its workmen is by far inferior to that given to slaves.

"In the eyes of foreign superintendents, our lives are not worth a mule. In case any accident happens, they would ask if any mules are dead or wounded, but they would take no notice of the workmen killed or wounded, simply because one mule costs them a sum of $300, while one dead workman costs them only $100. If while at work any workman gets wounded and becomes invalided, he is promptly to be dismissed without any allowance.

"If he should by mistake injure a mule, not only is he severely punished but also he is sure to be expelled. This sort of torture and agony is beyond description. This is indeed an earthly hell of mankind. Hereupon, we are determined to strengthen our union and to escape from this oppression. Stir up all fellow workmen throughout the country and come to rescue us without delay."

Y.W.C.A. NEEDS $4,600 STILL IN BUDGET DRIVE

Workers Extend Campaign To Obtain Needed Funds

At yesterday afternoon's rally of those working to secure the Y. W. C. A. budget of $16,000 it was reported that to date $11,496.75 has been secured. This is a gain of almost $3,000 in three days, which is proportionately encouraging.

The original plan was to close the campaign if possible with yesterday's rally, but a two weeks' campaign seems still a little too concentrated for the Orient. The decision to extend the time to next Monday at least, and certainly until the entire $16,000 is secured, was therefore made without the slightest hesitation. The Executive Committee are assured that the money is obtainable, and that to raise it is only a matter of enough team workers being out and having time to cover the city. They ask each member of the fourteen teams to give all possible time, morning and afternoon, to the work of the next four days, and to come to the rally, from 4 to 5 o'clock next Monday afternoon at the campaign headquarters, 11a Quinsan Road, able if possible to report on returns from all the cards she now holds. It is estimated that if every one of last year's donors now in the city gives the same amount as last year, $4,000 of the needed $4,603 could be secured.

NEED MOTOR CARS

The public could be of great help at this stage of the campaign if those who have not yet been called upon will send in their contributions directly to the campaign office, making checks payable to Mrs. P. C. Kwok, Treasurer. Another piece of concrete service would be the use of a few automobiles for the team-workers, who are having to spend too much valuable time in covering the great distances in the city. A telephone message to Miss Mabelle Danuser, campaign manager, or to any of the staff of the Y.W.C.A., at North 721 or North 3100, with the offer of a half-day's use of a machine, would be a direct contribution to the success of the campaign which would be greatly appreciated.

The response of the foreign community to the campaign, based, no doubt, on knowledge of the work of the organisation in the West as well as in China, is unusually strong, in spite of difficult business conditions. It is more difficult to win the interest of the Chinese public, who are in the main entirely unused to civil giving, but in proportion to the numbers of those among the wealthier class who are educated, there is genuine progress in securing interest in this organisation which is rendering national service to China.

CHINESE GIRLS GET $1,101

One of the teams with the highest returns thus far is the Chinese Girls Team, with $1,101 to its credit. At yesterday's rally the members of the staff ranged from one who was the first Chinese girl to go to England to study, to the presiding officer of the rally, who is one of the youngest members of the national Y.W.C.A. staff, and represents all of the most progressive and hopeful elements in "young China" today. Between these two, stands the span of the brief but spectacular development of the women of China, into which the Y.W.C.A. is throwing all its resources and for which the campaign now in progress is proposed.

JAPANESE LEAVE

Full Inventory Of Supplies Handed To Bolshevists

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, October 25.—The Japanese evacuation was completed today and the Chita troops entered the town. The strike has terminated. Perfect order prevails and there have been no unpleasant incidents. The Chita troops created an excellent impression. Their discipline is perfect and they are well clothed and armed. They met with a sympathetic reception from the populace.

Tokio, October 26.—The War Office announces the final evacuation of Siberia by the Japanese Expeditionary Force.

The Chief of Staff announces that the last troops embarked at 2 on the afternoon of October 25 when the transport left the harbor.

Prior to the embarkation the Commanding Officers handed over to the representative of the Red Government a full inventory of the arms, ammunition and supplies together with the keys of the storehouses. Only one Japanese officer now remains at Vladivostok. Simultaneously the International Technical Railway Board, controlling the Chinese Eastern Railway, ceases to function.

Copies of the Manchuria Daily News, a Japanese newspaper published at Dairen, which have just arrived in Shanghai give details of the situation in Siberia and Vladivostok just before the city was entered by the Reds.

The Whites made every possible attempt to delay the entry of the Reds into the city and detachments of Whites had several encounters with Reds in the district surrounding Vladivostok, according to the news paper. Just before the railway between Harbin and Vladivostok was cut the Whites stopped one train while they searched for a Chita representative supposed to be aboard, but were unable to find him.

Perfect order has been established in Nikolsk since the arrival of the Reds.

From Japanese sources the newspaper learns that the Whites propose to retreat to Kamchatka and from there to the Yakutsk (Irkutsk) region, from where an offensive will be attempted in the Spring. Some Whites are now concentrated at Razdolnoe.

One detachment of Orenburg Cossacks rode into Pogranichnaya, according to the paper, but were not disarmed as there is supposed to be an agreement between the Whites and Chang Tso-lin to allow the troops to pass through Harbin.

The losses up to October 14 are reported to be 1,000 killed and 2,000 wounded on both sides. Some were killed when the bridges between Grodekovo and Horvatovo were blown up to prevent the Whites from taking war supplies from Nikolsk.

The paper also reports that seven trainloads of Kappel troops arrived at Pogranichnaya last week including 1,200 troops and the entire workshops from Votkinsky.

Angora's Refusal To Recognise Banks Draws Fire

(Reuter's Service)

Constantinople, Oct. 25.—The Allied High Commissioners have protested against the warning given by Hamid Bey, the representative of the Angora Government, to the banks to the effect that Angora will not recognise payments made on account of the Constantinople Government. The Commissioners point out the serious effects of this action including the fact that officials have not received salaries for seven months.

Constantinople, Oct. 26.—The note handed to Hamid Bey by the Allied High Commissioners protesting against the warning given to the banks that Angora would not recognise payments made on account of the Constantinople Government points out that the threatened measure would bring starvation to widows and children and other Government pensioners and put an end to the services of public order and lead to anarchy. Therefore the Powers have ordered the banks to carry on as heretofore. The Powers declare that they are unable to admit the contention of the Angora Government in that connection.

Athens, Oct. 26.—Prince Alexander has been arrested after a preliminary examination in connection with the military debacle in Asia Minor. He will probably be detained at the residence of Prince Nicholas.

Conservatives Hail McKenna Conversion

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 25.—Editorial articles today dwell perhaps more on the speech of the former Liberal Cabinet Minister, Mr. McKenna, than on the constitution of the new Ministry.

The Conservative organs hail Mr. McKenna's conversion as testimony to the soundness of Mr. Bonar Law's policy.

The Liberal newspapers regretfully say farewell to their former champion. They express the opinion that the success of the new Government at the polls will result in the very dangers Mr. McKenna is anxious to avoid because it would speedily shed its moderate elements and return to undiluted Toryism.

The Independent Liberal organs are pessimistic in their outlook. The Manchester Guardian, which was formerly hopeful of a Liberal reunion, bewails the fact that Mr. Lloyd George is still tied to a section of the Tory Party.

Breach Of Contract Hearing Is Opened In American Court

Suit of the Belgian Trading Company for Gold $225,810 against Neuss, Hesslein Company on the grounds of an alleged breach of contract was called for hearing yesterday in the United States Court for China before Judge C. S. Lobingier and is to be resumed on November 28 after certain depositions have been taken.

Mr. Sterling Fessenden, representing Mr. L. Van Der Stegen, doing business as the Belgian Trading Company, alleges in his petition that Mr. C. J. Jedicka and Mr. L. Van Der Stegen, Sr., original owners of the Belgian Trading Company, entered into a contract with the Neuss, Hesslein and Company, Inc. on April 1 1920, for certain amounts of egg yolk. The contracts, they allege, call for the delivery of 100 tons of spray hens' egg yolk at 54 cents gold a pound net C. I. F. New York, delivery to be made between April and June, 1920, and 75 tons of hens' egg albumen at $1.28 gold per pound under the same delivery conditions.

The plaintiff alleges that the egg yolk and albumen was shipped as specified in the contract, but that delivery was refused by the defendants because of a drop in the market, and they therefore lost $225,810 gold, for which they sue. Davies and Bryan represent the defendants.

Advertising Manager Of China Press Returns From Trip

Mr. H. C. Norman, advertising Manager of The China Press who returned yesterday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Norman, on the Hakozaki Maru after a six months' sojourn in England stated that the economic situation in Europe is slowly recovering from a long period of depression.

Mr. Norman appeared quite optimistic for the future, stating that the unemployment situation in England has greatly ameliorated during the past six months which was due in a large measure to mutual agreements effected between capital and labor.

Other passengers on board the Hakozaki Maru included Dr. Wang, the Chinese Minister to France, who is traveling to his new post in Tokio, and H. R. H. Prince Yugala, the brother of the King of Siam and viceroy of the Southern province, who disembarked at Singapore.

Among the passengers leaving the ship at Shanghai were Mr. W. H. Giles, son of Professor Giles, and British Consul at Changsha; Mr. H. V. Brett, the British Commercial Attache at Shanghai; Dr. Chatley with his wife and children who returned to Shanghai after an enjoyable holiday spent in the homeland; Mr. W. S. Dwyer, of Porter and Company, and Mr. G. H. Kingham, the new British Consul at Newchwang.

MADE SUNNY BROOK

Cross-examined by Mr. Wing, witness stated that the actual filtration of the wine was an easy process.

So that you were engaged there not merely for the filtration of wine?—I had to look after the wine and also to filtrate the beer and make Sunnybrook whisky.

And in point of fact you had the entire charge when you were with Giesel's?—Yes.

And you had charge of the necessary machinery which you found there?—No. I only worked with the machinery. Mack was directing it.

What was actually done to the wine or whisky was done under your direction?—Under his direction some wine was put into the bottles.

The actual making was done by you and not Mack?—Mack made it. The actual working was also done under Mack's supervision. Mack only asked me whether this wine should be filtered. I supervised the coolies.

Did you have anything to do with the bottling of these liquors?—No.

Asked whether synthethic brandy had to be matured before it was bottled witness said that sometimes brandy would have to wait ten years before it was bottled.

This artificial brandy must remain in casks for at least six months before it is bottled?—It depends upon the time.

You realised that Blumenthal was deceiving you to find out whether you were manufacturing this stuff?—Yes.

When Mack removed this brandy, as he said, to a house, did he not tell you that it was because of the action of Blumenthal that he removed it to a house?—Mack told me that he had taken it to another house. He wanted to take it and hide it.

WASN'T INTERESTED

The Magistrate: What was actually made in that godown?—I made brandy and Sunnybrook whisky and nothing more. The vermouth was filtered and beer was also filtered and bottled.

Did it not strike you that he was doing something wrong when he entered into the agreement for the brandy?—I did not know as Mack asked me to make the brandy. It was my duty. He said he had sold it to Blumenthal.

What?—Martel and Hennessy. Mack told me to make the brandy and that he would take it away. I knew that a mark would be put on it.

Did you not think that anything was wrong when you made this brandy out of good brandy?—This question did not interest me.

Why did it not interest you?—Because I had nothing to do with the selling of it.

Did your conscience not prick you that something was wrong?—I told Blumenthal about it and Blumenthal said that in the interior of China the Chinese did not understand the quality of the brandy. Within one week the brandy was bottled.

So you did not think it was wrong?—It was not poisonous. And for your trouble you got only a hundred dollars?—Yes.

The hearing was adjourned till this morning.

OPENING MEETING OF MUSIC SECTION VERY SUCCESSFUL

Fine Program Presented By American Woman's Club Department

A highly enjoyable program was presented at the opening meeting of the Music Department of the American Woman's Club held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Edwin S. Cunningham. Mrs. H. A. Wilbur presided, as the Chairman; Mrs. W. R. Chapman, was kept away by illness. It was voted to hold the business meetings of the Department at 4:30 and to begin the musical programs promptly at five o'clock.

A running commentary on the musical events of the past three months was presented by Mrs. Van Buskirk, who mentioned the Welsh Festival, the Mozart Festival and the Cincinnati experiment in popular summer opera at prices low enough to enable all to attend. This proved so successful that it is anticipated other cities in the United States will adopt the plan.

Miss Bernice Austin of the Shanghai American School gave an animated resume of the opera of Carmen, singing "Habanera" and illustrating her remarks with victrola records of the opera. The Madrigal Club, made up of boys and girls from the school, sang the Toreador chorus. The afternoon was thoroughly appreciated by the good-sized audience present. The next meeting will be held Nov. 16 at Mrs. Cunningham's house with Mrs. K. E. Graham in charge, the subject being "Il Trovatore."

LUDENDORFF IS BITTER AGAINST THE AMERICANS

Narrow People Who Fought For Gold, He Says To Paris Herald

(French Wireless)

Paris, October 25.—The Matin publishes a statement by General Ludendorff to the correspondent of the Paris edition of the New York Herald:

"We Germans have fought for the supremacy of our race. The Americans fought for gold. You can tell your Americans that there is no people in the world so Narrow (?) as they are. We can well do without them."

"As to disarmament," General Ludendorff continued, "a nation must be absolutely mad to think of it, for you can tell your Americans that the Disarmament Conference has merely served to make naval war more costly and to bring about modifications in large battleships. As to the German people, who are monarchists, they will see the monarchy return, when and how I do not know."

Shriner Minstrels

The Shriner Minstrels played to another big house at the Olympic last night, the jubilee production, pruned somewhat to make it shorter, and running more smoothly with the taking on of more 'stage presence' by the company, pleasing the crowd throughout.

The end-men's repartee came over more smartly than on the first night and the chorus numbers went with a swing. Mr. Patstone's song, "After Sundown," and the two other after-hours selections, "Evening" and "All Through the Night," by Mr. Brooke, were exceedingly well received. Mr. Hanna and Mr. Glemby led the chorus into a brace of excellent harmony turns with "Virginia Blues" and "Some Sunny Day," and provided enlivening acrobatic accompanishment of the syncopated sort.

The olio was trimmed somewhat to speed up the performance and found Jack Raynes and his Harmony Boys—and very harmonious they are, too—on the job, succeeded by the Silas Boys and Cameron and the skit in which Earl Currens blossoms startlingly into skirts.

Getting South of the Mason-Dixon line again for the final part of the program, the company last night gave their darky chorus items in a southern setting with the proper southern pathos and melody. Parson Kimball delivered his comprehensive sermon in right convincing style and the finale, preceded by Mr. Glemby's rendition of "Ida, I Idolise Her," brought the curtain down before a thoroughly satisfied audience.

P.S.—Doc Irons evidently hasn't collected his 'leven dollars yet.

Pancho Villa Wins Another Contest

(China Press Service)

Boston, Oct. 24.—Pancho Villa easily defeated Danny Edwards, the Pacific Coast colored bantam, battering his dusky opponent unmercifully. Villa fought like a real champion and evinced superiority in all departments of the game from the opening round. Edwards outweighed the Filipino ten pounds.

In every round except the seventh, Villa was supreme. In this session, Edwards landed an uppercut which nearly put the Filipino out, but he showed remarkable gameness and came back strong to an easy decision. The scrap went ten rounds.

The card was the best ever seen in The Hub. Freddie Williams, the Boston lad who fought Macario Villon in Manila, was in the semi-final, winning in four rounds from Red Donohue.

KOREANS MOVING FROM SHANGHAI INTO SIBERIA

Provisional Government Will Shift Northward, Says Vladivostok Paper

Headquarters of the Korean Provisional Government, which have been in the French Concession since the formation of the Provisional Government, will be removed to Nikolsk-Ussurisky in the near future, according to a report appearing in "Our Speech," a White newspaper published in Vladivostok, copies of which have just arrived in Shanghai.

The article states that the Koreans entered into an agreement with the Communists in Harbin in July last to change their government headquarters as soon as the Japanese troops evacuated. Chita's consent was obtained in August when the Japanese announced they would withdraw.

Three representatives of the Korean Government were sent to Nikolsk to make preparations for the removal of the government, establishing agencies at Shkotovo and Spassk and are now organising the Koreans living in the Maritime Province. Red propaganda is also being spread by the Koreans in Dzinsan, Fusan, Gensan, Tensin, and other places on the Korean border, according to the newspaper. The intention, it is said, is to gain Bolshevik assistance in furthering the independence plans of the Koreans.

As soon as the Whites evacuate Possiet the Koreans will also organise that district according to the press.

Chinese Students Denied Free Board Go On Rampage

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Oct. 25.—It is reported from Lyons that a number of the students of the Chinese University demanded free board and lodging for holders of scholarships. When this was refused they rioted and locked Mr. Tsu, the principal of the University, in his rooms, hoping to force him to yield to their demands, but the French police intervened and released Mr. Tsu. The Chinese Government has been informed of the incident.

Obituary

MR. DAVID I. MATTHEWS

David I. Matthews, office manager of the Midland Packing Company for the past ten months, died yesterday morning at the General Hospital from penumonia.

The late Mr. Matthews came here from Chicago where he was for ten years with the big packing firm of Morriss and Company He was born in Wales and was 41 years of age. A mother and two sisters, residing in England, survive.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Bubbling Well Cemetery.

G. W. SPRINGETT, H.B.M.N.

A large crowd assembled shortly after 2 p.m. yesterday at the Customs Naval jetty to witness the bringing ashore of the casket containing the body of George W. Springett, late cook of H. M. S. Hawkins, who died Wednesday at the General Hospital.

His recent shipmates stood at attention forming a hollow lane through which the flower draped casket was carried to the waiting gun carriage. The interment took place at three o'clock at Bubbling Well cemetery when the coffin was lowered into the grave accompanied with the customary naval honors.

MRS. HARRIET GULICK CLARK

This afternoon at 5:30 at the Bubbling Well Cemetery will be held the funeral services of Mrs. Harriet Gulick Clark, for 35 years a missionary of the American Board in Japan. All friends are invited to attend.

Mrs. Clark's father, Dr. Luther Gulick, will be remembered by the older residents of Shanghai as the pastor of the Union Church and the representative here of the American Bible Society for a number of years in the eighties of the nineteenth century. One of Mrs. Clark's uncles also was prominently associated with missionary work in China, having established the American Board Mission in Kaigan during the Taiping Rebellion period. Her grandfather and others of her uncles and an aunt have been indentified with missionary work on the Pacific and in Spain from early in the nineteenth century. Mrs. Clark's brother, Dr. Sidney L. Gulick, is well-known for his work as a missionary in Japan and, later, for his efforts in seeking to bring about better relations between Japan and the United States.

Mrs. Clark herself first came to the Far East as her father's secretary. Subsequently, while studying at Oberlin College, she met Mr. Cyrus A. Clark. They were married and went to Japan under the American Board in 1887. They were located at Osaka and Kumamoto for a short time, and then, 30 years ago, went to Miyazaki, the capital of the province of the same name in the island of Kyushu. Here Mr. and Mrs. Clark have lived since. Mr. Clark engaged in evangelistic work and Mrs. Clark in work for the women and girls of the region. One of her important undertakings was the establishment and management of a residence-home for the girls who came to attend the public schools of Miyazaki.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark came to China last spring to visit their children here, Mr. Edward Clark of Shanghai and Mr. Grover Clark of Peking. Mrs. Clark came over again last week with her brother, Dr. Sidney Gulick. Shortly after arriving she was taken with a stroke of paralysis. She partially recovered consciousness, but had a relapse which turned into pneumonia. She died last Sunday, without suffering. She is to be buried in Kobe, where her mother rests.

Besides her husband and her two living sons, Mrs. Clark is survived by a daughter, two brothers and a sister.

FRANCE FACING FOUR BILLION FRANCS DEFICIT

Payments On Loans Are Taken From Taxes Instead Of Reparations

(French Wireless)

Paris, Oct. 25.—Yesterday's debate in the Chamber of Deputies on the Budget began with the report of M. Bokanowski, the Reporter-General, who emphasised the economies realised, especially in military expenses, and pointed out that there was a deficit of 4,000,000,000 francs, caused by payments on loans, made by France instead of the reparations which had not been paid by Germany.

Exchange Market

In their weekly report on the exchange market, Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand state as follows:

Exchange:—The price of Bar Silver in London comes in today at 34⅛d. and 34d. per ounce for spot and forward deliveries respectively namely a rise of ⅛d. as compared with the corresponding day of last week. Latest reports from London indicate the market steady with India and China buyers. The T.T. rate on London after dropping to 3s. 3d. closes unchanged at 3s. 3½d., with business doing about ⅞d. above this quotation.

During the earlier period of the week under review the market showed distinct signs of weakness, and the present strength is entirely due to speculative operations. The Chinese position is obscure, but would seem to be an oversold one. A certain section is undoubtedly heavily oversold at high rates and is apparently using every endeavor both by selling exchange and buying silver to put the market on a high level. Their efforts have met with a certain degree of success, and it is possible that the market may be pushed up further but doubtful if it can be maintained for any length of time.

Our stocks of silver are reported as follows:

Sycee and Bar Silver Tls. 39,427,000, a decrease of Tls. 156,000.

Chinese and Mexican Dollars $38,240,000, a decrease of $210,000.

Estimated value Tls. 66,960,000 as against Tls. 37,918,000 held at this time last year.

British Labor Asks Higher Land Taxes

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 25.—The official Labor policy for the election is set out in a manifesto signed by all members of the Labor Party.

The Executive, recognising the need for lightening the deadweight burden of the national debt on labor, proposes the creation of a war debt redemption fund by a special graduated levy on fortunes, exceeding £5,000; a revised system of taxation for revenue purposes; an increase in the death duties on large estates; a supertax on large incomes and income tax relief for low incomes.

It advocates taxation on land values. Labor's unemployment policy involves national organisation of industry and a large program of necessary public works. Its rural policy provides for the restoration of the agricultural wages board and the establishment of agricultural councils to promote agricultural interests.

Its industrial policy involves prompt nationalisation of the mines and railways.

CONGRATULATE CHINA

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 23.—The Chinese Government received telegrams of congratulation on National Day, October 10, from the United States, Belgium and Brazil to which replies have since been sent.

DRY OFFICIAL HELD

(China Press Service)

San Juan, P. R., Oct. 25.—Mariano Pasquera, United States director of prohibition for Porto Rico and a number of other minor officials have been indicted on a charge of conspiring to violate the dry law which they are sworn to uphold.

Exchange Fluctuations
Asia Banking Corporation

October 26, 1922

Spot bar silver was up ⅛d. and forward 3-16d. in London yesterday.

The New York price advanced to 67¾ cents and the London-New York cross rate is unchanged at 444¼.

The only change in our official quotations here today was a rise in the Franc rate to 1050.

Notwithstanding the advance in the London price of silver yesterday our market here today was inclined to be easy.

At one time business in Sterling was done as high as 3-4 3/16 November-December delivery and in Gold Dollars at 74½.

However, after a small business had been done at these rates, the market quickly eased off and while some business in Sterling was done in the afternoon at 3s. 4d. for November-December delivery and in Gold Dollars at 74⅛, at the close there were strong buyers at these rates with sellers only at 3s. 3⅞d. and 73¾ respectively.

There were sellers of Yen at the close at 65½ October-November delivery and buyers at 65¼.

Bankers were quoting 3-4¾ for Sterling bills, 75¾ for Gold Dollars bills and 1080 for Franc bills.

India bought silver again in London yesterday and the Continent sold.

The understone of the market is reported as easy. New York also report their market on the easy side with sellers rather than buyers at the official quotations.

OUR NEW BOARD

ANNOUNCEMENT yesterday of the new Board of Directors—Messrs. Hugo Reiss, Stirling Fessenden, Chu Pao-san, J. Harold Dollar, Chang Nieh-yun and C. L. Seitz—and the new ownership of THE CHINA PRESS, Incorporated, was greeted on every side as welcome news. As a point of special interest, it may be mentioned that the British, Chinese and the community in general appear to be at least as well pleased with the change as is the American community.

Our readers, and for the matter of that, all of Shanghai and China at large, are acquainted with the personnel of the new board, which therefore requires no further introduction or elucidation.

It is hardly necessary to add that the new directorate is a guarantee that this paper will be conducted along independent and non-partisan lines, and in the interests of good and stable government in China, and of friendly co-operation among all Powers that wish well of this great country and its people.

Adulation

I am built just as other people are built, so far as I can discover, and therefore I do prize a good hearty compliment above rubies; and am grateful for it, and as you are yourself when I can in sincerity return the mate to it.

But when a man goes beyond compliment, it does not give me pleasure—it makes me ashamed; I am not thinking about him, I am thinking about myself; he may humiliate himself if he likes, it is his privilege, but I do not want to be humiliated.

Adulation. Adulation—spoken or hinted. And never earned; never due, to any human being. What a king must suffer! For he knows, deep down in his heart, that he is a poor, cheap, wormy thing like the rest of us, a sarcasm, the Creator's prime miscarriage in inventions, the moral inferior of all the animals, the inferior of each one of them all in one gift only, and that one not up to his estimation of it—intellect.

Clara Morris Finds Many Misnomers Common In Dictionary

BY CLARA MORRIS

Things have been going badly in "the Street." The nerves of a neighbor, who is a broker, were all at loose ends, and his little daughter—my special friend—asked:

"Papa, may I have some small things changed? I want a lead-pencil and a big stick of red sealing-wax."

He fairly snorted, as he buttoned his coat:

"One without lead and the other without wax! But—oh, all right! Order whatever you want and welcome, but I hate a misnomer!"

Ethel's arm tightened about my waist as she finished telling me about it, and she asked tremulously:

"Do you think papa is queer in his head?"

"Nonsense!" I laughed. "He had a nerve-racking day and is anxious about what the next few hours may do to him. He hates a misnomer—a word that says one thing and means another—and you fired two right at his head and made him cross, that's all."

"But," persisted the girl, "he said such crazy things—that there was no sealing-wax and"—

"No, he didn't. He said there was no wax in sealing-wax—and there is none. It's made of—of—shellac, Venice turpentine and cinnebar. Your dear father's brain is all right yet, little girl."

She gave me a hug and asked eagerly.

"Are there any more misnomers?"

"Very many, I fancy."

"Oh, tell me one, please do!"

This stand-and-deliver style was a bit confusing to my "membance," as Uncle Remus says. I started out of the window at the trees. They suggested Central Park. The park made me think of the monolith, and I said:

"Cleopatra's needle."

"Why!" cried the girl. "How can that be a misnomer. Didn't she—"

"No," I broke in, "she did not. The great monolith was not erected by Cleopatra—not even to her. So there is a misnomer and no mistake."

Ethel, coming out of a brown study, exclaimed:

"I think I've found one. Is titmouse a misnomer?"

"Good girl!" I laughed. "A titmouse is a bird and no mouse at all. Suppose we add guinea pig, which is Guiana and no pig, but of the rat family."

Seeing her amusement, I was inspired to say:

"Ethel, I think the search for misleading misnomers would make a good game."

She clapped her hands:

"Oh, lovely!" she cried. "You're a dear! My birthday comes on Sunday. We can't dance and we don't want to sing all the time. We'll hunt misnomers. Oh, if I could just find one misnomer in the Bible! The rector always calls for his daughter—and we would look so—so, well, studious, you know, and observant, and—oh do find one for me!"

"That's some order!" I groaned.

Hard thinking and much prodding up of memories brought forth only the fact that Absalom means "a father's peace," which certainly makes Absalom a misnomer for the beautiful, rebellious son of David.

Ethel was delighted.

That was five days ago. Now here is a pencilled note from Ethel:

"We had a wonderful time at my misnomer party. The best prize was the loveliest Russian enamelled thimble, velvet case and everything, and who do you think won it—the rector!"

Europe Showing Physical Effects Of Great War

London, Aug. 25.—The people of Europe have been physically stunted by the great World War and its after effects, according to Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Health Commissioner of New York, who has just completed a tour of Central Europe.

The physical growth of Europe's population has been seriously retarded, and shows in the everyday walks of life, Dr. Copeland said. Babies who were undernourished during the war are growing up into unfit children. Adults who suffered from the privations of war and its after effects are greatly undermined in health, and their progeny must be weakened.

"Austria is in a pitiful condition," Dr. Copeland said. "There is the greatest poverty in Austria. People are not dying from starvation, but they are suffering seriously from the effects of malnutrition. I saw old university professors, proud men, whose backs were prematurely bent and whose fingers were gnarled and twisted, all because their bones were softening because of improper food. It was a pitiful sight.

"Children are being born, I am told, without finger-nails—a sign of lack of strength in bone matter, a condition which must seriously affect the health of the generation.

"Germany is different. I have never seen Germany more prosperous.

"Poland is in a pitiful condition because of the huge numbers of refugees who are returning to their homes from Russia, where they were deported during the war.

"The children of the war present an interesting study. I am told that some of the children, mostly the children of the poor, who were born under war stress are subnormal physically and mentally. On the other hand, I am told that the children of the wealthy, who were used to pampering and overfeeding and too much care, are abnormal both mentally and physically because of the restrictions which were forced upon them during the war, making their lives more normal.

"The health of Europe has certainly been lowered by the war, and the effects of the war upon the people of Europe will not be erased for years to come."

On Making Sure
There is nothing like making sure where one's health is concerned. Good health is the best guarantee that Life shall be a success. Now it is well-known that digestive disorders are the cause of more cases of ill-health than any other class of ailment. The digestive system is so extensive, so complex and so hard-worked, that its liability to derangement is not astonishing. Happily, however, many digestive ailments can be easily remedied. Happily, too, many digestions need never go wrong. You can make reasonably sure that your digestion will not fail you, even under trying conditions, if you get into the excellent way of taking Beecham's Pills. This "Wonderful Medicine"—as it has been called—does really work wonders with the digestive system. Beecham's Pills impart tone to the stomach, regulate the action of the liver and kidneys and gently stimulate the bowels into healthy activity. Get into the habit of making sure. Have recourse to Beecham's Pills at the first sign of digestive trouble. Make sure of your health by taking
Beecham's Pills.

Scientific Proof And Legal Evidence

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS
Eminent Astronomer and Authority on Subjects of Scientific Interest.

Some time ago I remarked, in an article touching on spiritualism, that science does not regard testimony as proof. One of my correspondents finds it a hard statement, and would like to have it explained. In his opinion the appearance of the spirit of a deceased person may be PROVED by the testimony of trustworthy persons who say they saw it.

In my reply I repeat that in the court of science mere testimony, however "honest," is not competent to establish a new scientific fact. Such testimony, of course, may be accepted as evidence that a certain phenomenon appeared to the witnesses, but the interpretation that they put upon the strange appearance is another thing, and cannot be accepted as determining the real nature of the phenomenon until the latter is subjected to an entirely different kind of a test.

Lawyers are apt to think that their rules and ways of establishing facts are unrivalled. But for the reason that legal evidence is largely presented in the form of testimony of witnesses, if for no other reason, the proofs that generally pass muster in a court of law must be pronounced inferior to those invariably demanded for the settlement of a question in science.

In science the facts must speak for themselves, and the human element in the evidence is reduced to the minimum possible. Simple testimony from a competent observer may suffice to establish the existence of an isolated scientific fact, provided that the nature of the fact is well known to science. But, science having no other evidence already of the existence of ghosts, would not accept the testimony of a hundred of the most honest-hearted witnesses in the world affirming that they had seen and talked with a ghost. It would say to them: "You must furnish other proof than your mere belief of the nature of what you saw."

So those who complain because scientific men do not set out to investigate spiritism should take notice of the severity of the tests to which their favorite hypothesis will be subjected if the real leaders of science ever do conclude that it is worth overhauling.

I happen to have before me now a simple illustration of the difference between testimony and proof, and of the cause of the lack of standing of the former in a scientific tribunal. I am writing in the North Carolina mountains, near where Daniel Boone went through to open the westward march of the world's newest empire, where at least eight great peaks exceed the height of New England's proud crown, Mount Washington, and where a little gold has occasionally been found glittering in the rocks and sands of the cliffs and gorges.

A few small but beautiful specimens of such gold have been shown to me. A Judge who is a visitor here said to me: "Do you think that this is evidence that there is gold in the North Carolina mountains?"

"Well," I replied, "the gold is certainly genuine, and that is the scientific evidence in the case. The rest is testimony, which is purely a legal matter, and therefore it is for you to pass upon it."

However, in this particular case science could, up to a certain point, aid the legal mind in reaching a conclusion. The subject of the testimony, gold, is well known to exist, so that the question, as far as science is concerned, narrows itself down to proof that gold occurs in the rocks of this particular region. Geology, as well as history, affirms that it does, and so the scientific end of the case is closed. But the purely legal end, the establishment of the truth of the testimony which averred that these particular specimens of gold were actually found in this region is another matter, in the investigation of which, nevertheless, the science of psychology might be willing to take a hand.

The highest peak here is Grandfather Mountain, a magnificent 6,000-foot giant, to reach whose almost bald head, streaked with white quartz miles of walking and climbing must be performed, largely through primeval forests.

Pounding with a hammer on Grandfather's skull I found some delightfully suspicious yellow specks imbedded in friable rock following a quartz seam. Having no means of testing the nature of the specks, I could not affirm that they might not be gold. Now, suppose that because I would have been delighted to find that they were gold, I had testified, on the strength of mere outward appearance, that such was really the case. I should have been doing just what science shrewdly suspects the ghost-seers of doing, viz: "making the wish the father of the thought," i.e., of the pseudo fact.

"But," the reader may say, "suppose your yellow shining specks should turn out after all to be gold?"

"No matter," I reply, "I am justified in skepticism as long as scientific tests have not been applied."

Sungei Duri Estate Meeting

The twelfth annual general meeting of the Sungei Duri Rubber Estate, Ltd., was held yesterday afternoon at the offices of the secretaries and general managers, A. R. Burkill and Sons.

In his annual address to the shareholders, the chairman said:

"Gentlemen: The report and accounts having been in your hands for some time, I will, with your premission, take them as read.

"The report as usual sets out very clearly and fully the comparative details as regards the working of the Estates so there is little further information that I can add.

"That the Estates have been economically managed during the year is evidenced by the all round reduction in costs. For many years, as you know, our Estates have enjoyed the reputation of low producing costs but this year by far eclipses any of our previous years. The all-in cost of production including Shanghai expenses, works out at 7.33d. per lb. which figure I may say compares very favorably with some of the best of the F. M. S. Companies. The most noticeable reduction is in the costs on Selama Estate which have been reduced from 9.95d. to 5.76d. per lb. Sungei Duri Estate also shows a very big reduction, the cost being 6.21d. per lb. against 10.02d. per lb. for the previous year. This figure is as low as can reasonably be expected on such a small Estate. With these low costs, it has been possible to work below the average price realised, the result being that we are able to show a profit on the year's working of Tls. 8,881.25 which I think you will agree is very satisfactory indeed.

"This profit added to the amount of Tls. 39,185.05 brought forward from last year's accounts, makes a total of Tls. 48,066.30 standing to the credit of profit and loss account which the Directors recommend be dealt with as follows:

	Tls.
To Write off Development Account	15,856.06
To Write off Building and Furniture	2,674.27
To Write off Wells and Water Supply	20.99
To Write off Motor Vehicles	1,163.29
Carry forward to next year's Accounts	28,351.69
	Tls. 48,066.30

and I shall later propose a Resolution to this effect.

"In connection with the Estates, all works have been maintained at a very high standard of efficiency throughout the year. Weeding on both properties is very satisfactory and the position as regards diseases on Selama is being given special attention. The current year's Estimates fully provide for the stumping of the non-producing area and when this work is accomplished, the danger from diseases will be considerably minimised. The labor position on both Estates is that we have a contented force adequate for all requirements.

"The effect of the restriction of outputs which comes into effect on November 1, will naturally tend to increase our cost of production. Although the particulars of the terms and conditions of the restriction are not yet to hand, I think I may say that even with the increased cost of production, the Estate will be able to produce at a fair margin of profit on the present price of rubber.

"Before concluding I would like to take this opportunity of expressing the Board's appreciation of the excellent work done throughout the year by our Managers, Messrs. Adair and Debieux.

"That is all I have to say, gentlemen, if any Shareholder has any questions to ask, I shall be pleased to answer to the best of my ability."

The following resolutions were passed: That the report and accounts for the year ended June 30, 1922 as presented be accepted.

"That the following recommendation as to appropriation of balance at credit of profit and loss account be accepted.

	Tls.
To Write off Development Account	15,856.06
To Write off Building and Furniture	2,674.27
To Write off Wells and Water Supply	20.99
To Write off Motor Vehicles	1,163.29
Carry forward to next year's Accounts	28,351.69
	Tls. 48,066.30

"That Pere F. Sallou be re-elected a Director of the Company.

"That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews be re-elected Auditors to the Company at an annual remuneration of Tls. 300 for Shanghai and Penang.

WHEN YOUR LITTLE ONE IS UNWELL

Try This Simple Remedy.

Almost all the ailments of infants and young children arise in the first place from stomach and bowel troubles. It is usually because the child is not digesting its food properly and the bowels are failing to do their work that the little one is fretful and unwell.

In cases such as this nothing is as good as the Canadian children's remedy, Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets are especially made for children, are easy to administer and pleasant in taste, can be given freely without fear of harm to the youngest infant.

No home where there are young children should be without Baby's Own Tablets. They are an ever-ready remedy for infantile indigestion, constipation, colic, diarrhoea, teething pains, croup, colds and worms. Chemists sell them or post free, 60 cents the vial, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 46 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

Prince Of Wales Is Made Senior Warden

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 25.—There was a remarkable scene at the Albert Hall today when some 9,000 British freemasons attended the investiture of the Prince of Wales as Senior Grand Warden.

The Duke of Connaught presided in the capacity of Grand Master. The representative character of the gathering was indicated by the fact that most of the Lodges of England, Ireland and Scotland sent only three or four delegates.

The proceedings were opened by an imposing procession of the members in splendid regalia and included the unveiling of a portrait of the Grand Master which was handed to the Grand Lodge.

The Duke of York, Master of the Navy Lodge, was present. The Prince of Wales receives an ovation.

Washington Plans American League

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Oct. 25.—The first step towards the formation of a League of Nations for the American continent has been taken by the United States by inviting the five Central American Republics to a conference at Washington on December 4

The objects of the conference are to negotiate treaties to make effective such provisions of the Treaty of Peace signed at Washington in 1907 as experience has shown to be useful in maintaining good relations and co-operation, and to concert measures whereby the central American Republics may carry on the endeavor of the Powers participating in the Washington Conference in 1921.

This will be done by adopting effective measures to limit armaments in Central America and by working out a plan for establishing tribunals to inquire into disputes with regard to the proposed Treaties which cannot be settled diplomatically.

Smuts Seeks To Extend S. A. Union

(Reuter's Service)

Pretoria, Oct. 25.—On the occasion of the referendum on October 27 General Smuts has sent a message to the Rhodesian electors warmly advising them to enter the Union, which, he says, will prove the same unmeasured blessing to Rhodesia as to the four original provinces.

He predicts that the Union is going to be for Africa what the United States has become for America and stating that the Imperial Government is anxious for Rhodesia to enter the Union, thereby rendering real Imperial service.
